WBAI JUNE FOLIO, 1973

Program Notes

Gay Pride Month

June 28, 1969: I was giving two Boston-based lesbians a tour of Greenwich Village and New York's gay bars. We passed Sheridan Square, where a mob of young men and women were hurling bottles and rubbish at a passing police car. The women from Boston were startled. "It's just another riot," I said, in my blase cosmopolitan manner, thus missing a chance to have my head historically cracked open. Later, we took a taxi uptown; I dropped my guests at their hotel and proceeded to my lover's apartment.

At that time, Charles Pitts and Pete Wilson were the only openly gay programmers at WBAI. Subsequently, other staff members came out, and new slaves were recruited: Su Negrin, Gary Fried, Mary Flowerpot, Manya La Bruja, Jeff Shaw, Bill Monaghan, and myself, Martha Shelley. All the other WBAI staffers are still in the closet, in spite of our generous offers to share the glories of homoerotic love with them.

For a few brief months, I enjoyed the solitary honor of producing the nation's only lesbian radio show; but now the itinerant business dyke can enjoy programming which caters to her tastes in many cities around the nation. Those of you who will be in New York and its environs during June can relax in your air conditioned railroad flats, fill up that tub in the kitchen, and go soak yourself for a month of gay culture, brought to you by your above mentioned servants of the air.

—Martha Shelley

June 27, 1970: I spent the wee-hours of the morning on my first radio show at WBAI on 30 East 39th Street. The all-night, gay, special was conducted by Charles Pitts and Pete Wilson; other participants were members of GLF GAA DOB CSLDC Mattachine, MCC, and a few individuals not affiliated with any particular gay group. That night, we all speculated, optimistically, that there might be as many as 5,000 people at the first gay parade up Sixth Avenue on the coming Sunday. We were wrong...there were 10,000.

As of this date, WBAI had one weekly half-hour program by and for gays.

April 24, 1973: I spent the wee-hours of the morning listening to WPLJ's Alex Bennett talk about Gay Liberation with two members of the Gay Activists Alliance, while I typed up my folio copy. WBAI is having almost 68 hours of gay programming this June (46 hours of this is regular gay programming), so you might see why I was not very impressed with Mr. Bennet's program. (No offense, Alex, I know you mean well.)

So...here is a rundown of what's coming out this month as gay programming on WBAI.

For the entire month on Continued Tomorrow, Martha Shelley will produce Bertha Harris' lyric novel Confessions of Cherubino, read by the author. Djuna Barnes' Ladies Almanack will be prepared for you with the lavender thumb of Mary Flowerpot, June 13 at 7:45 p.m., June 15 at 7:15 p.m. Flowerpot will also be producing Bedtime Stories for the middle of this month through Gay Pride Week. We've expanded Bedtime Stories for that week to allow Mary to have four instead of two nights. Her entire production of A Time and a Time, an autobiography of Sarah Davys (a pseudonym), will be in seven segments starting on Friday night, June 15 at 11:45. The remainder of the month's Bedtime Stories will be essays, articles, and poetry of the gay movement, produced by myself. Our final literary offering will be a program by Martha Shelley, In Search of Sappho, with Frances Doughty discussing Sappho's life and work. It will be aired on Friday, June 8, at 12:00 noon.

Music and poetry will be presented by WBAI's "Classical Amazon" Mayna La Bruja. Her program Songs of Sappho's Daughters will be on Friday, June 1 at noon, Saturday, June 9 at 11:15 p.m., and Friday, June 29, again at noon. Mike Cohen will bare his soul for you in the form of song, live, on Sunday, June 17, at 1:45 p.m. The program is called Some New with the Old: The Music of Mike Cohen, it will be produced by Mike and Jeffrey Shaw, and engineered by myself, so that CP can sit home and enjoy it.

How about the drama? Coming Out will be explored by Martha Shelley, who will present excerpts of the play and a discussion with the author, Jonathan Katz, and the cast, on Saturday, June 22, at 11:15 p.m. Two other productions are tentatively planned for this month, to be presented in the gay free-form spots. Charles Pitts and Jeffrey Shaw are attempting a gay soap opera, and I will be producing a radio play of Theodore Sturgeon's short story, The World Well Lost.

Bill Monaghan will be producing a special on a gay look at religion, to be aired on Sunday, June 17, at 12:30 in the afternoon. That same day we will present S & M and Gay Pride with Charles Pitts and Pete Wilson. Originally broadcast in 1970, it will follow Bill's program at 1:00 p.m. Then comes Mike Cohen's live concert which will be followed at 3:00 p.m. by Desires, Dreams, and Powers, produced by Mary Flowerpot and Jeffrey Shaw. It will explore "exotic behaviour far and beyond any social expectation."

In order to keep you with as much information as possible on events during Gay Pride Week we will be presenting a Gay Pride Week Calendar on Monday, June 16 at 7:15 p.m.; Wednesday, June 18, at 7:45 p.m.; and Friday, June 20 at 7:15 p.m. We also plan to have coverage of events in these slots.

Our next large block of time occurs on Saturday, June 23 and starts out at 4:30 p.m. with my program on Gay Men's Health Care. That will be followed by a reading at 5:15 p.m. by Morty Manford, of a paper he and Arthur Evans wrote on the strategy of the zap. At 6:00 p.m. Jeffrey Shaw will present To Be Young, Gay and... a program on gay youth.

On Sunday, June 25, the day of the march, you might like to get up at 8:00 a.m. for my children's program, Show Me Yours and I'll Show You Mine, in which you'll hear young souls talking about Gay Liberation in a new and refreshing style that only kids are lucky enough to possess.

Of course there's the 46 hours of regular programming for you to choose from if this isn't quite enough for you. If you're not satisfied by then, you can always tune to Alex Bennett, he'll probably have some gay people on again, sooner or later.

—Gary Fried

Gertrude Stein

As interest grows in the writing of Gertrude Stein with the approach of her centennial year, we offer a group of programs in the last few weeks in June, dealing with her work. LOST BOOKS will feature her first novel Q.E.D. which was published posthumously as Things As They Are and recently reissued again as Q.E.D. Along with some readings from essays and poems, there will be one of the excerpts from The Making of Americans as well as an interview with Stein scholar and playwright Leon Katz, who recently undertook the monumental task of adapting this work for the theater. The 1947 recording of the original production of Four Saints in Three Acts will be aired and composer Virgil Thompson will discuss that production. Then on Thursday evening, June 28, the public is invited to Studio C for a live, dramatic reading of the Stein play Listen to Me directed by Lawrence Kornfeld of the Judson Poet's Theater.

If you listen carefully between programs, you may hear the voice of Gertrude Stein, herself, and if you find the style hard to follow, remember that when asked on her American tour—"Why don't you write the way you talk?" she replied, "Why don't you read the way I write?"

Katz, a social historian, claims that new high-yield grain seeds, together with adequate fertilizers and extended cultivation, can multiply food supplies 150-fold and feed at least 500 billion people. Even the grimmest exponential demographic extrapolations would take a while to reach that figure. What's more, Katz condemns the "too many Asians" attitude of certain zero population growth advocates, who, he claims, are backed by powerful industrial interests who are attempting to control the world's natural resources. Produced by Jan Legnitto.

This abridged version of the original production given at the Avery Memorial Theatre in Hartford, Conn. on Feb. 7, 1934, was recorded with substantially the identical cast in June, 1947. In notes for the album, Virgil Thompson, the composer, wrote: "It was early in 1927 that Gertrude Stein and I conceived the idea of writing an opera together. Naturally the theme had to be one that interested us both. Something from the lives of the saints was my proposal. That it should take place in Spain, was hers...So we made together, Gertrude Stein and I, an opera about the Spanish landscape and about the religious life. It was also novel that an all-Negro cast should be received so warmly in a work that had nothing whatever to do with Negro life." In this program, Virgil Thompson comments about the original production. Produced by Mimi Anderson.

11:00 WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME...WITH HONOR. Every foreign war in which America has taken part has been followed by a victory parade, and the Vietnam war was no exception. On Saturday, March 31, thousands of New Yorkers lined Broadway for a Home with Honor Parade to welcome home Vietnam veterans from a war that had spanned a decade and cost hundreds of thousands of lives as well as several billion dollars. But, for a few hours, at least, the crowd forgot that—cheered returning troops and waved miniature flags; and what was the battleground of anti-war demonstrators and the police in the sixties became a celebration-ground of American patriotism. Here's what happened. Produced by Jan Legnitto with technical production by David Rapkin and musical direction by James Irsay.

 7:30 BETWEEN THE LIONS. Continuing WBAI's profession series BETWEEN THE LIONS focuses on librarians. The lions are still proud, but the libraries may be crumbling. Due to the recent Nixon budget cuts, they have been forced to start closing earlier and cutting back on several vital community services. More libraries are being run by the neighborhoods they're in, but they can't survive without Federal aid. Traditionally a liberal field (librarians were very strong fighters during the McCarthy era) censorship is still a vital question. Should radical papers be kept out of libraries (Berkeley Barb case, 1965)? Should sexist children's books? Some librarians are fervent guardians of the books' sacred place in libraries. Others are defenders of cataloging all non-print media. This program is long overdue! Produced by WBAI's record librarian, Jan Albert.

What's Going On With Pacifica In Washington

This question has been hurled at us by listeners, people within Pacifica and media friends with increasing frequency, stridency and frustration. The fact is that applying for a non-commercial license is a protracted, laborious process under the best of circumstances and Pacifica's pursuit of the last remaining Washington, D.C. frequency, 89.3, has been formally underway since April 2, 1968.

But first, a brief history:

1. April 2, 1968: Pacifica in its wisdom, files an application for non-commercial frequency 89.3 in Washington, D.C.
2. March 6, 1969: The National Educational Foundation resubmits an application for the same channel—competition!
3. August 14, 1969: The Commission designates a Hearing to determine which of the two applicants is better qualified.
4. October 29, 1969: Pacifica's application for a new noncommercial station in Houston, Texas is granted conditioned on the outcome of Pacifica's Washington application.
5. March 19, 1970: The Presiding Judge for the Washington Application sets the date of June 9, 1970 as the date for the exchange of written exhibits prior to an actual comparative hearing to be held on June 15, 1970.
6. June 9, 1970: Pacifica submits nine exhibits which speak to various criteria.
7. June 12, 1970: The Commission issues an "Opinion & Order" recommending that the applicants (i.e. NEF & Pacifica) explore ways of working out training opportunities and other possible joint ventures with Howard University (whose application for the same frequency was too late for consideration) in light of Howard's plans to establish a Communications School.
8. June 15, 1970: Pacifica counsel requests a continuance (postponement of proceedings) so that both the applicants can respond positively to the Commission's "Opinion & Order" and meet with Howard University. This request was granted by the Presiding Judge. Shortly after, however, WTOP, owned by the Washington Post, was given to Howard, thus ending their interest in 89.3.
9. February 25, 1972: After a number of procedural delays, NEF's application, at its request, was dismissed and under FCC regulations Pacifica agreed to pay NEF's application expenses through that date in the amount of $5,500. (NEF has since purchased an existing station in a nearby Virginia suburb.)
10. Over a number of months a series of meetings took place at which the scope of the issues to be considered was debated. The criteria had to be reexamined because the hearing was now conceived of as unilateral, not comparative, NEF having withdrawn.
11. January 16, 1973: At an informal conference attended by representatives of the Broadcast Bureau, an independent division of the FCC charged with fostering the "public interest," Pacifica Counsel and the Presiding Judge, the new hearing was set for April 2, 1973.
12. March 19, 1973: A new series of exhibits was exchanged between Pacifica and the Broadcast Bureau and the hearing commenced on April 2, 1973 at 10 A.M.

Please keep in mind that the above are highlights of a considerably more complex proceeding. The important point to note is that the Hearing on April 2nd was the first, unofficial public manifestation of the application process. What transpired there appears in the official record and, similar to trial proceedings, is appealable. Normally the other steps in the FCC application process, after the hearing before the Presiding Judge include the opportunity to appeal the hearing decision to the Review Board, to the Commission itself, and ultimately the U.S. Court of Appeals. The Court cannot grant a license but it can check the case to the Commission for reconsideration in light of its findings.

It was anticipated that the April 2nd hearing would last two weeks but after two days, Pacifica decided to file a Petition For Extraordinary Relief directly with the Commission itself. Accordingly a "continuance" (postponement of proceeding) was requested by Pacifica and granted by the Presiding Judge over the strenuous objections of the Broadcast Bureau. In the petition, Pacifica seeks a direct grant of the license on the grounds that the Foundation's basic qualifications are manifest in the application and exhibits submitted to date and that none of the objections raised by the Broadcast Bureau involve disqualifying issues, based on the history of FCC decisions to date. Failing a direct grant by the Commission, Pacifica is requesting a clarification (which it has sought and failed to receive at other levels to date) of the issues (criteria) as designated for hearing at this time. Pacifica argues that the current framework of the hearing is in violation of FCC regulations, the Administrative Procedure Act and the Constitution of the U.S. all of which require a specific delineation of the issues.

Before the hearing began Pacifica feared that the metes and bounds of this procedure were unclear and would open the door to an exhaustive, irrelevant and boundless inquiry into the history and operations of Pacifica stations. Nevertheless, with the hope that the Presiding Judge would carefully restrict the scope of the inquiry, we went to "trial." After two days of proceedings, Pacifica's worst fears were confirmed. Upon the pretext of exploring the administration of Pacifica's program policy, the Broadcast Bureau introduced into the record controversial program material much of which had been passed on favorably by the Commission in the course of previous license renewals; also allowed in was material which predated the program policy presumably being tested. As well as material which by definition does not, and never did, fall under the program policy. In brief, we felt that to continue with a proceeding where "legal," "financial," "technical," "educational," and "other" criteria were not defined, was to set the stage for an endless, enervating, harassing proceeding.

The Commission will receive Pacifica's petition shortly. It will have the opportunity to grant the license forthwith after weighing our arguments and those in opposition articulated by the Broadcast Bureau; or the Commission may clarify the issues and remand the matter for further hearing. In the event the Commission refuses to adopt either course or, in our view, unsatisfactorily "clarifies" the issues Pacifica will have to determine if there are sufficient grounds to go before the Court of Appeals in Washington. Stand by for the sixth year of this drama entitled In Search of a Station.

Hello Friends:

Because we're so late with our small (unfortunately) extra contribution (from your mini-thon last month) we are upping it to $5.00 instead of just $3.00. Wish we could send more and often. We've been supporters for nearly 11 years now, through at least 4 different addresses, each one moving further away from the city, but always within range of WBAI, because it's an enormous part of us by now. Someday we'll actually get around to writing that well and long awaited for letter of thanks and praise to all—especially Julius, Margo, James Irsay, Micky Waldman, Paul, Steve, Bob, and long lost Larry, to whom I am listening at this moment, on one of those "in for a few days" treats.

But, most of all, don't let Julius Lester "escape" from his morning show. We would be very upset.

Dear WBAI:

The enclosed check should not be constructed as approval of most of your programming. You have done some very good stuff. The 6:30 News is always good. I have to tape "The Life of the Mind" but its worth it. "Notes from the Underground" and the show about holograms I especially enjoyed. Your sibling stations apparently also do some excellent stuff, so why don't you rebroadcast more of it. At least one-third of NET and NYC's stuff is repeats and worth repeating. I'm not a S.F. nut but an occasional "Hour 25" would be welcome. How many other programs of theirs are worth repeating. How about sending subscribers copies of their schedules occasionally? How about questionnaires?

Instead we get endless rhetoric from Women, Gays and Third Worlders. Sure let 'em talk—as long as they say something. The endless dingbats calling in can call in to AM stations.

Your article showing how much work the folio involves apparently backfired—a lot of us don't think it's worth it. Just how much does it cost? How about an annual financial statement?

Dear Folio Editor:

It is about time you decided to become a program guide for a radio station instead of a magazine. I am sure that you are also saving a lot of money by cutting the size in half, and that that money can be put to better use at the station in the future.

Dear Folks,

I had thought that the combination of WBAI and Bill Watson would be a beautiful sort of poetry. In fact I was going to commemorate the occasion with a few bucks.

It was a very sad scene when I learned from Steve Post of the censorship that exists on WBAI which didn't allow Bill on the air Feb. 13. I will protest these deviations from the concept of WBAI in the only way I can. I will no longer subscribe until rectification is offered.

I think WBAI must apologize officially to Bill Watson and then to their subscribers. Those responsible should apologize personally or be severed from the station.

I admire many things on your station. For example, the fact that you give a platform to unpopular groups. However, I have the feeling that you are bending over backwards to such an extent that distortion is setting in to such a degree that you're turning out the very "squares" you're trying to reach. Specifically, I feel the station is losing its objectivity on issues such as Israel, crime in the city streets, problems of the middle class.

In closing, I wish to pay tribute to the many fine programs such as the News (in the main), Steve Post, Julius Lester, Paul Gorman, Margot Adler, the Music (in the main, the satire—we need much more). I also appreciate that WBAI is increasing its science programming. I very much want to continue to be a subscriber, but that's primarily up to you.
